To find an interior decorating scheme that suits you means considering your likes and dislikes. Maybe you prefer warm colours and florals for a traditional look, or neutral tones and clean lines for a contemporary flavour.

A good interior designer works closely with his or her clients to establish their particular requirements, both aesthetic and practical.

Residential and commercial interior design practice TDC & Associates offers a wide selection of interior styles that range from classical to fusion, contemporary or tropical resort.

Principal designer LH Chan says that a beautiful home is the result of teamwork between client and designer.

"A well-designed interior is a backdrop for your lifestyle, whether based around family or formal entertaining," he says.
